being taken as proposed on the half-yearly returns now received, would it not be better to call for separate reports as regards each individual so that the merits of each case may be well considered and suitable orders passed? They have been detained in custody only for about six months and one of them has been guilty of a serious offence viz., culpable homicide not amounting to murder and notwithstanding the report of the official visitors that they may be discharged, it is a matter for consideration whether they should not be detained in custody for some time longer or should not be called upon to - furnish security in case it is decided to discharge them. The principles to be observed in disposing of cases of criminal lunatics are stated in detail in para 821 of the United Provinces Jail Manual and it is believed that there are similar rules in - - force in the Madras Presidency. They may kindly be put up.

CRIMINAL LUNATICS.

TREATMENT OF CONVALESCENTS.

The Government of Madras have had under consideration the question of the treatment of recovered criminal lunatics detained in an asylum or in a jail. In accordance with the principles laid down in Appendix III-A of G. O. No 726, Judicial, dated the 24th April, 1889, a recovered criminal lunatic has now to spend a period of from three to six years free from insanity (according to the nature of his offence and the type of his insanity) and is then sent to a jail to undergo a further probation of from four to six years. His subsequent release depends on the recommendation made by the Inspector General of Prisons in his half-yearly report to the Government.

The Government consider in the first place that a distinction should be made between (1) persons found to have committed an act while insane which would have been an offence but for such insanity and (2) convicted criminals who have become insane while in jail. The former are not criminals and should not be confined in jail. The Government are also of opinion that a jail is not a suitable place for a convalescent from insanity, to whichever class he belongs. Secondly as regards the period of detention after recovery, the Surgeon General has reported, and the Government agree with him, that the period could safely be reduced and that recovered lunatics should be separated as soon as possible from the unrecovered.

The Government have accordingly laid down rules bringing into force these revised principles.

(Continuation sheet draft form.)

Recovered lunatics released on orders under Sections 466, 471, 474 & 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure & under Sec. 20 of the Mysore Lunacy Regulation I of 1916 :-

Recovered criminal lunatics.

These will be divided into two classes—

Class I.—Persons found to have committed an act while insane which would have been an offence but for such insanity.

Class II.—Convicted criminals who have become insane after such conviction.

Class I.

Persons belonging to this class should ordinarily spend a period of three years probation in the asylum free from all signs of insanity. After the expiry of the first year of such probation the recovered lunatic may be allowed certain privileges; he may be put in charge of working groups of civil insanes, allowed to supervise work in the kitchen, wash-house and the like, and permitted to occupy a room by himself outside the criminal enclosure. Should no sign of insanity be observed during the three years of probation, the recovered lunatic will ordinarily be released, if such release is recommended by the official visitors. Security should, if possible be taken when a recovered lunatic of this class is released.

Note.—If the act committed by a lunatic of this class was not against the person, or, if so, was only trivial, and if his mental attitude was not at any time aggressive, he may generally be treated as if he were a non-criminal lunatic. Such a lunatic need not be detained for three years after recovery. In passing orders on such cases the Government will be guided by the recommendations of the official visitors.

Class II.

In the case of persons belonging to this class each individual case will be dealt with on its merits. A remand to jail to undergo the unexpired portion of the sentence will be reserved only for persons who have still a considerable period to serve, and even then only when there is no probability of such remand bringing on a return of insanity.

No. 4663—Pris. 35-17-8, dated 2nd September 1918.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE.

GENERAL AND REVENUE DEPARTMENTS.

Order No. 4663—Pris. 35-17-8, dated 2nd September 1918.

The Government have had under consideration the question of the treatme of recovered criminal lunatics detained in an asylum or in a jail.

2. The Government consider in the first place that a distinction should made between (1) persons found to have committed an act while insane whi would have been an offence but for such insanity and (2) convicted crimin who have become insane while in jail. The former are not criminals and shou not be confined in jail. The Government are also of opinion that a jail is not suitable place for a convalescent from insanity to whichever class he belon They have accordingly decided to adopt the following principles in disposing cases of recovered lunatics reported for orders under Sections 466, 471, 471 and 4 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and under Section 20 of the Mysore Luna Regulation I of 1916.—
